

Monopolies in America, Kings in Britain, Caesars in Rome, Tyrants in third world countries; what do all these things have in common? The possibilities of misuse of power. The media are the fourth check and balance in our great democracy. To own the media is a dangerous possibility of misuse of power. To change the rules on owning the media is also to shift the balance of power. I am a mere peon myself. Please listen and do not allow this to happen! It can have the most dire of consequences and change the course of this great nation.
